【概要】

This course focuses on improving fluency by increasing vocabulary, reinforcing grammar knowledge, and practicing listening strategies that can be applied to TOEIC, TOEFL and university English exams. The classtime listening exercises feature real, natural English spoken at a lively pace. Task-based pair work and group work will allow students maximum speaking and listening opportunities while interacting with other students in a comfortable environment. Students will be able to build confidence in their English speaking abilities through genuine communication. Homework will consist of brief writing assignments that you will hand on for a grade. Your instructor may assign supplemental written homework assignments as needed. In addition, short self-study exercises for each unit students a chance to practice listening exercises outside of class and keep track of their progress.
